I feel renewed and grateful, and it is all thanks to Daniel Schoonmakerr, the Michigan Sustainable Business Forum, and the Triple Bottom Line Bash last night. It was so much fun seeing Sarah Archer, Allmon Forrester, and Vickie Lewis enter the Hall of Fame. When Vickie said, 'You See Me,' it was so powerful. Witnessing old friends like Kari Bliss helping to facilitate and hand out awards to other old friends and coworkers was heartwarming. Catching up with all the old friends from Herman Miller Daniel Gezon Becky Muñoz Hedin Wendy Love, Mike Troupos and new colleagues from municipalities and the work I do in Holland Morgan Feldpausch Julie Roth. And meeting new friends, Kerry Rowe, CMG, I know I am not mentioning so many others (I am sorry, but I did not want this to be my next book :-))

The most powerful, uplifting, and inspirational was seeing all the videos and organizations, municipalities, and nonprofits working in the sustainability field to create a more sustainable future. Thank you all for the work you do. I see you!. I have a permanent smile today because of you!!!!

GRAND RAPIDS, MI – Vantage Plastics received the inaugural Manufacturer of the Year award from the Michigan Sustainable Business Forum at the organization’s annual Triple Bottom Line Bash last month in Grand Rapids.

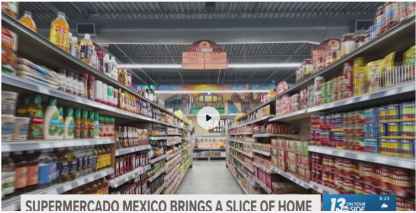

The Standish-based company was selected for the award, which recognizes a mid-size manufacturer whose products or operations substantially increase sustainable business outcomes for Michigan industry and its supply chain. More than 350 professionals and supporters attended the event at Frederik Meijer Gardens & Sculpture Park.

“Vantage Plastics was the very first company selected by the committee once we expanded the program to a statewide footprint,” said Daniel Schoonmaker, executive director of Michigan Sustainable Business Forum. “It exemplifies everything that we have been trying to promote with our circular economy programs.”
